JEREMIAH STUDY – The Days are Coming!

Yom meem bi yeem – _____

"Just as I watched over them to _____ and _____
_____..."

"...I will watch over them to _____ and to _____..."

"The days are coming..." implies change is coming.

"The days are coming..." awakens deep _____ and/or
_____.

"The days are coming..." foretold a new _____ when,
God said, "I will put my law in their _____ and write it on their _____."

The day has come for an _____ transformation.

The new covenant was established through _____ death and resurrection.

The Passover is a key celebration, established under the Old Covenant, celebrating God's redemption and deliverance of the Jewish people from slavery. Everything in the Old Covenant foreshadowed the New Covenant. God used the timing, story and elements of the Passover celebration to announce the new covenant, which provides redemption and deliverance from sin and death for all people through the sacrifice of Jesus.

Luke 22:19-20 He took the _____, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, "This is my _____, given for _____... he took the _____, saying, "This cup is the new _____ in my blood, which is poured out for _____."

Day 1 – Read: Jeremiah 9:23 & 24; 1 Corinthians 2:11-12

Ponder in Prayer: Consider this incredible truth that God wants you to know him intimately, and personally paid the ultimate price simply to make this possible.

Day 2 – Read: Jeremiah 29:13; 1 Chronicles 16:11; Psalm 46

Ponder in Prayer: Seek the Lord in a still and secret place today.

Day 3 – Read: Hebrews 4:12; 2 Timothy 3:16; Jeremiah 31:33

Ponder in Prayer: Ask your Lord to write a particular truth from Scripture on your heart today.

Day 4 – Read: John 14-16

Ponder in Prayer: As you read these three chapters, make a list of the things the Spirit does. Watch and pray to see the Spirit doing these things for you and in you.

Day 5 – Read: Romans 8

Ponder in Prayer: Again, as you read, make a list of the things the Spirit does for you and in you, as a believer. Give thanks to the Spirit for his presence and work in your life.
